

LSS assists new and existing families by:

- ❑ Offering single mothers information and counseling in choosing and meeting adoptive families
- ❑ Arranging for and supporting the adoption of children with special needs
- ❑ Placing domestic and international infants and toddlers in loving families
- ❑ Working with families on issues relating to adoption adjustments
- ❑ Providing information and support for individuals seeking contact or updated medical history from birth parent

LSS Adoption Services respectfully work for the well-being of the birth mother, the adopting parents or parent, and the adoptive child. We realize that adoption is a lifelong process; LSS is equipped to help members of the adoption triad at any point in this lifelong process.

If you are pregnant, a single person, or married couple looking to adopt, or have questions dealing with adoption, please contact LSS Adoption Services, or check out our website at www.lssmn.org

Creating and Supporting Families

Being part of a family provides a basic human need ... to care and be cared for by others in an unconditional way. Family units provide this opportunity to experience love, security and trust. Some families are created naturally while some are created through adoption.

Lutheran Social Service (LSS) recognizes the importance of creating and supporting families by providing a continuum of social services that are available statewide.

- Pregnancy Counseling and information for Birth Mothers
- Kids with Special Needs Adoption
- Domestic Adoption
- International Adoption
- Post-Adoption Counseling
- Background Search on Birth Parents
- Support Services and Counseling for Adopting Families

LSS offers non-judgmental, non-secular pregnancy counseling for single mothers that can help guide them through the decision of keeping their baby or placing their child for adoption in a loving family. LSS counselors also work with families wanting to adopt to ensure a smooth transition between all parties. Contact the LSS Adoption Services at 1.888.205.3769.
