

Refugee Resettlement

"She's like a mentor. When I came here, my employment counselor at LSS (right) told me I can be anything I want to be in this country. The sky is the limit. I thought, if she can do it, I can do it." - Rachael Kanyugi, former refugee and nursing student.

Refugee Resettlement

"She's like a mentor. When I came here, my employment counselor at LSS (right) told me I can be anything I want to be in this country. The sky is the limit. I thought, if she can do it, I can do it." - Rachael Kanyugi, former refugee and nursing student.

How it works

Refugee resettlement in the United States is a federal program.

Each year in October, the President, in consultation with Congress, sets the number of refugees to be admitted for U.S. resettlement. Resettlement is then coordinated through the U.S. State Department and involves many federal divisions that provide security clearance.

The U.S. State Department works with nine national voluntary organizations that facilitate resettlement with help from nearly 200 nonprofit organizations in local communities that carry out direct support refugees need.

Our role is humanitarian. LSS helps refugees secure housing, enroll in school and English language classes, find jobs, offer cultural and safety orientation, tend to medical needs and connect to other community resources to help refugees start their new lives.

Here in Minnesota, resettlement is focused on family reunification, meaning that refugee arrivals are joining family members who are already here. Refugees who arrive in the U.S. wish to resettle near their families and where there are safe communities, good schools and job opportunities – not unlike the reasons why most people live where they do. Just like any U.S. resident, refugees are free to relocate to another community at any time.

Organizations like LSS rely on volunteers and philanthropic support to carry out this work. Congregations, businesses, foundations, civic groups and community volunteers all play a vital role in helping us carry out our mission to inspire hope, change lives and build community.

How it works

Refugee resettlement in the United States is a federal program.

Each year in October, the President, in consultation with Congress, sets the number of refugees to be admitted for U.S. resettlement. Resettlement is then coordinated through the U.S. State Department and involves many federal divisions that provide security clearance.

The U.S. State Department works with nine national voluntary organizations that facilitate resettlement with help from nearly 200 nonprofit organizations in local communities that carry out direct support refugees need.

Our role is humanitarian. LSS helps refugees secure housing, enroll in school and English language classes, find jobs, offer cultural and safety orientation, tend to medical needs and connect to other community resources to help refugees start their new lives.

Here in Minnesota, resettlement is focused on family reunification, meaning that refugee arrivals are joining family members who are already here. Refugees who arrive in the U.S. wish to resettle near their families and where there are safe communities, good schools and job opportunities – not unlike the reasons why most people live where they do. Just like any U.S. resident, refugees are free to relocate to another community at any time.

Organizations like LSS rely on volunteers and philanthropic support to carry out this work. Congregations, businesses, foundations, civic groups and community volunteers all play a vital role in helping us carry out our mission to inspire hope, change lives and build community.

A refugee is someone who has been forced to flee his or her country because of persecution, war, or violence.

A refugee has a well-founded fear of persecution for reasons of race, religion, nationality, political opinion or membership in a particular social group.

United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees

LSS of MN currently resettles refugees primarily from Burma, Somalia, Ethiopia and Iraq.

A refugee is someone who has been forced to flee his or her country because of persecution, war, or violence.

A refugee has a well-founded fear of persecution for reasons of race, religion, nationality, political opinion or membership in a particular social group.

United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees

LSS of MN currently resettles refugees primarily from Burma, Somalia, Ethiopia and Iraq.

By the Numbers

- $ 21.3 million Refugees worldwide in 2015
- 50,000 U.S. Refugee Admissions for fiscal year 2017, effective January 27, 2017.
- 9 National organizations coordinating resettlement nationwide
- 13 Minnesota ranking among states for number of refugees resettled
- 6 Resettlement organizations in Minnesota
  - LSS, Catholic Charities of the Twin Cities, Catholic Charities of Winona, Minnesota Council of Churches, International Institute, Arrive Ministries
- 2,678 Refugees assisted by Minnesota resettlement organizations in 2016
- 332 Refugees resettled by LSS from October 1, 2016 to January 27, 2017
- 1,125 Dollars that each refugee receives to help them resettle
  - A federal, one-time grant
- 950 Dollars that LSS receives per refugee to help them resettle
- 90 Days that LSS works with refugees when they arrive
- 11 Dollars per day that LSS receives to help a refugee
- $ 659 billion Estimated lifetime earnings of immigrants in Minnesota*
- $ 793 million Estimated state and local taxes paid annually by immigrants in Minnesota*

* Minnesota Chamber of Commerce

By the Numbers

- $ 21.3 million Refugees worldwide in 2015
- 50,000 U.S. Refugee Admissions for fiscal year 2017, effective January 27, 2017.
- 9 National organizations coordinating resettlement nationwide
- 13 Minnesota ranking among states for number of refugees resettled
- 6 Resettlement organizations in Minnesota
  - LSS, Catholic Charities of the Twin Cities, Catholic Charities of Winona, Minnesota Council of Churches, International Institute, Arrive Ministries
- 2,678 Refugees assisted by Minnesota resettlement organizations in 2016
- 332 Refugees resettled by LSS from October 1, 2016 to January 27, 2017
- 1,125 Dollars that each refugee receives to help them resettle
  - A federal, one-time grant
- 950 Dollars that LSS receives per refugee to help them resettle
- 90 Days that LSS works with refugees when they arrive
- 11 Dollars per day that LSS receives to help a refugee
- $ 659 billion Estimated lifetime earnings of immigrants in Minnesota*
- $ 793 million Estimated state and local taxes paid annually by immigrants in Minnesota*

* Minnesota Chamber of Commerce

CONTACT US TODAY

Get more info or donate

612.879.5258

email us at:
refugee.services@lssmn.org

Refugee Services Office Locations:

Minneapolis	St. Cloud
2400 Park Avenue	22 Wilson Ave NE
Minneapolis, MN 55404	St. Cloud, MN 56304

www.lssmn.org/refugeeservices

CONTACT US TODAY

Get more info or donate

612.879.5258

email us at:
refugee.services@lssmn.org

Refugee Services Office Locations:

Minneapolis	St. Cloud
2400 Park Avenue	22 Wilson Ave NE
Minneapolis, MN 55404	St. Cloud, MN 56304

www.lssmn.org/refugeeservices